

Spot It Calming Game... Teacher/adult-directed activity. Child(ren) can spot the action identified by the adult. Help can be provided as needed. Once a child spots one of the actions and points to it, everyone (including the adult) practices the activity. Spot It expands self-regulation skills and executive function skills. *It can be played with an adult and a child or an adult and several children.

